Meet some of our volunteers and hear their story!

Chiranshu Kumar

Chiranshu Kumar contributed wholeheartedly over a period of one year with his collaboration with us. His association involved publishing blogs about the regular activities of the organization on a daily basis. He has written more than 200 blogs on our website in a span of just one year, becoming the only volunteer in Mumbai Smiles to have achieved that. Even though being employed, Chiranshu very keenly worked on the content of the blogs by coordinating with the team online and over the phone, thus making it always possible to have the work complete without having to travel often to the organization. His assistance to the communication department of the organization is just simply beyond comparison!

Khushboo Jani

Khushboo began her volunteering work by mentoring 2 of our beneficiaries of the Higher Education Project. Her hours dedicated to Mumbai Smiles were utilized in teaching the beneficiaries Maths and Science thrice a week. Her continual involvement in the program not only helped the girls score higher grades in their exams but also built such a close rapport with them that they are in regular touch with each other even while Khushboo has moved to the US for higher studies. One of the best experiences for the beneficiaries as a part of Khushboo’s volunteering work was when she took them on her own to an educational field trip around the city which turned out to be an unforgettable trip for the young girls.

Shruti Pandit

With a great love for the Spanish language, Shruti Pandit decided to volunteer her skills for a good cause. Her involvement consisted of assisting the Responsive Action Coordinator in organizing visits for the Spanish Nationals to the projects in the field. Shruti interacted with the Spanish and Latin American guests and helped them greatly in understanding our projects in their very own language. She volunteered for approximately 15 visits, both of large and small groups assisting greatly in the management, coordination and presentation aspects of the visit. Shruti’s involvement in the projects as a volunteer not only gave her the opportunity to improve her command over Spanish but also helped the visitors immensely in understanding the vision and mission of the organization with all clarity.
